

Help
Us
Grow!

Dunbar Chronicle

American
Education
Week
November 7-12

Published by the Students of Dunbar Senior High School

Vol. XX

LYNCHBURG, VIRGINIA, NOVEMBER, 1965

No. 1

NEWS IN BRIEF

Each Monday at 4:20 p. m., Barbara Brown, editor of the CHRONICLE, broadcasts current school events on radio station WLLL (950).

Any one having interesting news should contact Barbara by Thursday of each week.

* * *

Students who have shown competence in a science-oriented course attended a small informal meeting conducted by Mr. William H. McTigue, Associate Director of Admissions, Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge on October 22, when Mr. McTigue visited Dunbar.

* * *

Mr. George C. Watson, Assistant Director of Admissions at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, visited Dunbar on October 14 and interviewed seniors who are interested in attending Lafayette.

* * *

On October 16, Dunbar Senior High School was the featured guest of Saturday Session's Dudley Townsend. Those who participated in this project sponsored by the Student Council were juniors and seniors. Chosen as the couple of the day were Eunice Jones and Leon Leggs.

* * *

The speech choir made its first appearance this year at the Parent Teachers Association on Sepicipating students attend classes all morning before reporting to their respective jobs in the forenoon. Thus, they acquire theoretical job training plus on the job training. For class-

Alumnus Receives Appointment

Mr. Chauncey G. Spencer, a native of Lynchburg and a graduate of Dunbar High School, has been appointed to the Police Commission of the city of San Bernardino, California. Before being appointed to the Police Commission, Mr. Spencer was Director of Personnel at Wright Airforce Base in Dayton, Ohio.

A couple of years ago, Mr. Spencer visited Dunbar, at which time he presented a trophy to the most valuable basketball play-

Student Council To Tackle School Problems

The Student Council will tackle school problems as its over-all project for this year. Because of the many problems facing students of today, the members of the executive committee headed by President Frank Hughes will put greater emphasis on the improvement of student life.

Questionnaires will be distributed to the student body and faculty members during the month of November in order to acquire view points on problems.

Others tentative plans formulated by the executive committee are to sponsor the Annual Christmas Party, to push scholarship, school spirit, and morale and to give recognition to Mrs. Y. T.

Ferguson as out-going sponsor. Mr. W. C. McClure, Mr. A. F. Thornhill and Mrs. J. H. Jones are faculty sponsors.

Chronicle Candy Sale Continues

For the fourth consecutive year the Dunbar CHRONICLE is conducting a candy sale to raise funds for operational expenses.

Turn to page 4, col. 5

Record Group Takes Aptitude Test

The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (P.S.A.T.) was room study and the part-time employment, they receive two school credits and the part-time wages for their work experiences.

Because of a joint arrangement between the high school and the distributive businesses in the community, the D. E. class is considered a cooperative program. One of the main objectives for the course is to prepare youth for full time employment in the field of distribution. It also serves as a background for those who plan to continue training in business administration, marketing,

Miss Adell Monroe

ORBIT WITH

Everyone will have to agree with us, the teens, that we are really in the know when it comes to the latest fashions, the most

Dunbar Jr. High School To Be Dedicated

On November 14, at 3:30 p.m. dedicatory ceremonies for the Dunbar Junior High School will be held. Mr. G. Everett Bond, chairman of the Lynchburg School Board will preside at the ceremonies.

Greetings will be extended by Mayor James Ould and Lynchburg School Superintendent, Mr. M. L. Carper; Rev. Haywood Robinson will offer the invocation.

Dr. Helen Edmunds, Dean of the Graduate School of North Carolina College, Durham, North Carolina, will deliver the principal address.

Mr. W. T. Lewis, assistant principal, will introduce the platform guests, who will include

The speech choir made its first appearance this year at the Parent Teachers Association on September 27, under the direction of
Turn to page 4, col. 3

Barbara Brown

Barbara Brown Heads Chronicle

Barbara Brown, a senior, has been elected editor-in-chief of the CHRONICLE. Barbara, a member of the National Honor Society, is also affiliated with the Dunbarian staff, Student Council, Math-Science Club and the Future Teachers of America. Chosen as assistant editor is Evanda Jefferson. Lawrence Jefferson was promoted to the position of managing editor. As in previous years, each division of the newspaper is headed by a student editor. Filling these vacant positions are Darlene Elliott, News Editor; Veronica Sherrill, Feature Editor; Sterling Daniels, Sports Editor; and Grace Miller, Chairman of typists.

A couple of years ago, Spencer visited Dunbar, at which time he presented a trophy to the most valuable basketball player. Alphonso Scott, a junior at that time, received the award. Scott is now a freshman at Norfolk Division of Virginia State College.

Each year Mr. Spencer also sponsors the most valuable football player award. The names of the players who are honored with the awards are inscribed on the trophies, which remain at the school.

Mr. Spencer is the son of Mrs. Anne Spencer, who is an outstanding poet and resides at 1311 Pierce Street. She was a former librarian in the city.

Guidance Personnel Begin Interviews

The Guidance Department has begun one of its many functions by interviewing students. The students are being interviewed in the order ranging from seniors to sophomores.

These individual interviews enable the students to discuss their educational and vocational plans. This is most important for those seniors who plan to attend college and for those who anticipate entering the labor market.

During the interviews students are given the opportunity to discuss with the counselors their plans, problems, and objectives.

Conducting the interviews are counselors Mrs. C. Seay, Miss A. B. Chambers, and Mrs. P. F. Weeden, chairman.

August when she became Mrs. Joseph Harris. She is a graduate of Morgan State College and is currently teaching in Baltimore, Maryland.

Support the United Fund

really in the know when it comes to the latest fashions, the most popular tunes, the keenest dances, and current fads. If you want to be real fashionable, you must jet off into orbit with us. So . . . Fashion Flashes

For the girls the total look is a must. To achieve this effect, all the fashionable girls are wearing stockings, dresses and skirts of lively, unpredictable streaks and designs. As for make-up, the natural look is vogue. Naturally, the shades of powder, which is brushed on, are variations of pink and peach. Femininity is displayed in the jewelry. Varieties of earrings with the pierced look, and small, classy pins and pendant necklaces are neat.

The boys are really wild about the sweat shirts with the names of different universities written on them. Sweater jackets of lively colors are being worn with that individual look by Joe Cabler and Samuel Pinn. Soft colored shirts of yellow are tops. Observe Raymond Robinson and Frank Hughes.

Keenest Dances
A couple Saturdays back at Gayla Fitch's party, Skeeter Hartman and Sheila Crews exhibited the "Boogalo" to the tune of "Papa's Got A Brand New Bag" by James Brown, of course. Meanwhile, Phillip Carr tried to switch the "Barracuda" on Barbara Quarles while Sara Scott and Richard Scott (no relation) held on to the dignified and more conservative style of dance steps. Other extortions of the frame included the "Boston Monkey" and the "Pig Feet."

Latest Tunes
Well, it looks like James Brown has done it again with "Papa's Got A Brand New Bag," while Otis Redding is asking for "Respect." Tops on the list are

Miss Adell Monroe
One Added To Faculty
Miss Adell Monroe is the only new member of the Dunbar Senior High faculty. Miss Monroe is a graduate of Virginia State College, where she majored in Business Education. When asked how she liked Dunbar, Miss Monroe replied, "Just fine."

Education Week Program Set, Nov. 11

Plans are being made for the annual observance of American Education Week, November 8-12. The national theme this year is "Invest in Learning."

According to Mrs. J. H. Jones, chairman of the planning committee, a special program, "Reach for the Stars," will be presented Thursday, November 11 at 2:15 p.m. in the auditorium. Members of the cast have been chosen and rehearsals are in progress.

Parents and friends are urged to attend the program, as well as visit the classes at some time during the week.

A reception will be held in the main lobby immediately after the program for parents and teachers.

r Drive

duties to the best of their abilities. Moving the bus zone has helped somewhat, but the danger still remains for the pedestrians crossing this busy thoroughfare.

Last May the P.T.A. discussed the problem, which was to be acted upon this fall. In talking with Mrs. Florine Hubbard, president of the senior high school P.T.A., the CHRONICLE was told that, "A letter from the P.T.A. was recently sent to the Chief of Police, requesting that a policeman be assigned to the corner each school day in the mornings and in the afternoons."

principal, will introduce the platform guests, who will include local and area principals of elementary and high schools, City Council members, and the architect of the structure, Mr. Carl D. Cress, and the contractor, Mr. Henry D. Porter.

Mr. H. S. Ferguson, school principal, will introduce the speaker. The Dunbar Junior and Senior High School Chorus will furnish the music.

N.C.C.J. Meeting Scheduled Sat.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews will hold its tenth annual Youth Seminar at Virginia Episcopal School on November 6, from 9:30 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

The number of delegates from each school include: Dunbar, 31; E. C. Glass, 30; Seven Hills, 15; Brookville High, 25; and V.E.S., 25. Attendance to the conference is by invitation only.

Dunbar's official representatives include Wiley Harris, representation chairman and discussion leader, Barbara Brown, discussion leader, and Betty Davis and Lawrence Jefferson, recorders.

The theme for the conference is "Empathy," and its purpose is to provide students with the opportunity to give and receive a wide variety of opinions concerning the projection of one's self into another being.

Dunbar Chronicle

Member of the National Scholastic Press Association

"IN TENNIS LABOR"

Published by the Students of Dunbar Senior High School, Lynchburg, Va.

- EDITOR-IN-CHIEF Barbara Brown
- ASSISTANT EDITOR Evanda Jefferson
- MANAGING EDITOR Lawrence Jefferson
- NEWS EDITOR Darlene Elliott
- FEATURE EDITOR Veronica Sherrill
- SPORTS EDITOR Sterling Daniels
- EDITORIAL STAFF Myra Gordon, Cornelia Harvey,
Patricia Brown, Glodelia Ferguson, Brenda Gilmore, Cheryl
Ferguson, Dorothy Douglas, Brenda Jackson, Sharon Stone,
Jo Ann Pugh, Grace Graves, Viola Lynch, Veronica
Shelton, Jennifer Lipford, Ernestine Marshall, Gwendolyn
Loving, Janice Warwick, Darnelle Brewer, Evangela Jones,
Karen Ferguson, Diana Powell, Evora Jordan, Sarah Scott,
Shirley Venable, Letha Trimiar, Janice Woodson, Eula
Woodson, Charlene Mays, Beverly Elliott, Dorothy Smith,
Andrew Smith, Carolyn White, Shirley Hunting, Millie
Harvey, Sharon Hunting, Ronald Thomas, Bernard Morris,
Norvell Saunders, Mary Jackson, Frank Hughes, Brenda
Jones, Florence Robey, Robert Brown, Wheeler Hughes,
Robert Smith, Allen Parks, Raymond Robinson, Herbert
Walker, Gerard Hutcherson.
- BUSINESS STAFF Grace Miller, Chairman
Eunice Jones, Leon Leggs, Mary Poindexter, Shirley Davis,
Rosa Burford, Mary Johnson, Marie Jefferson, Bertha Goode,
Diana Livingston, Betty Glass, Marjorie Shilangu, Patricia Kinney, Patricia Green, Melvin Megginson.
- FACULTY STAFF Miss A. B. Chambers,
Miss A. Monroe, Mr. L. G. Stamps, Mr. H. R. Watson,
Mrs. D. L. Obey, Chairman.

SOMETHING NEW

Upon our return to school this fall, we all marvelled at the changes that our 'dear ole Dunbar' had undergone during summer vacation. Now that the novelty has worn off, let us stop and think about what the changes should mean to us.

The biggest change is that we are now a senior high school, housing tenth through the twelfth grades, instead of eighth through twelfth grades. This places a great responsibility on us. We should therefore, speak and act like the mature adolescents that we would have our close associates, the occupants of the new Dunbar Junior High School, which is across the street from us and which shares some of our facilities, and the citizens of the community think that we are. We can no longer place the blame on the younger and least experienced students.

This brings out another pleasant change at Dunbar. The detention hall, formerly held each afternoon for one hour, rain or shine, no longer exists. For years students have claimed that Dunbar would be a better place without a detention hall. Now that detention has been temporarily suspended, we should see that its absence will be permanent by not creating a need for one.

LETTERS TO THE FORUM

Dear Editor:

I would like to congratulate all of the participants on their fine performance given on Saturday Session, October 6, 1965. Many people were talking about how well the program was organized. I hope it will be even better next year. Also, I would like to congratulate the students and teachers who worked to make this program a success.

Florence Robey

Dear Editor:

The students of Dunbar High want their school to be known as a decent and clean one. But in order for this to be said about our school, we, the students, must take interest in keeping our halls and yards clean. We must refrain from writing on the walls and desks and from the use of profanity.

This is not only a request but a plea that all of us join in and help keep Dunbar's name one that we will be proud of.

Shirley Jones

Dear Editor:

I would very much like to congratulate Miss Eunice Jones, the winner of the Miss Dunbar Contest. I think that she deserves this honor, and I am glad to be one of her attendants.

Again I congratulate her.

Margaret Hubbard

Dear Editor:

I would like to commend the sponsors and participants on the fine assembly program presented to the school on October 14.

The students on the program gave us some very good advice about our conduct, personal grooming, scholarship, and extra-curricular activities.

I can only hope that we take note of the following names: Diana Power, Patsy Waller, Viola Lynch, Frances Smith, Elvira Gunney, Estelle Roberts, juniors; and Annie Harvey and Margaret Hubbard, sophomores.

Junior high attendants are:

Class Meetings Change Schedule

The Senior class will continue to hold meetings on the first Monday of each month, while the Juniors will have a new schedule. They will meet on the third Monday. The Sophomore class will not meet jointly this year because of lack of space for a meeting place. Each sophomore homeroom will set up a homeroom organization, elect officers, advantage of the message which the program brought to us.

Veronica Shelton

Dear Editor:

With the addition of the Junior High School to our family, we have almost twice as many students here as before, thus giving the custodians even more work to do. When we buy our ice cream, cookies, nabs, milk and etc. from the snack bar, we should place our trash in the containers placed around the school and yard for our convenience as well as for others. This will help to lessen the work of the custodians and keep our school looking like one that we can be proud of.

Millie Harvey

Inquiring Reporter

By CORNELIA HARVEY

Since this is the first time in the annals of history that Dunbar has been without a detention hall in the afternoons, do you think that its absence has caused the behavior problems among the student body to diminish?

Margreeta Hill: "Yes, I think since our school is a senior high school, we feel a sense of maturity which diminishes behavior problems."

Rodger Pannell: "No, the behavior problems haven't diminished, but the students feel more relieved without it. The students feel that the absence of the detention hall suggests more severe punishment, however."

James Tankersley: "I think this problem has diminished because the students are improving their behavior in a respectful way."

Venessa Crews: "All the problems have not diminished but Another important change is that new rooms have been added and our old ones painted and refurbished. This contributes to a brighter atmosphere. We no longer have the excuse that the study hall is too drab and dreary for study. Its bright color should give us that extra incentive we need to bring up our grades.

Other additions are to the faculty and the curriculum. The Distributive Education program has been added to our courses of study. This program makes it possible for any student not planning to attend college to prepare himself for work in the field of commerce. This is a worthwhile and a much needed course, for there are many students here who can benefit from such a course.

In the final analysis we can see that the changes in our school force and inspire us to act like well-behaved young adults and to take advantage of the curricula and the facilities at Dunbar.

TRICK OR TREAT

Traditionally, October 31 is known as Halloween, meaning hallowed or holy evening, because it precedes All Saints Day.

Many superstitions and symbols are related to Halloween, such as jack-o-lanterns, ghosts, spirits, witches and black cats. These superstitions and symbols are illustrated in the costumes which are worn by both the young and the old on that evening.

Various sections of communities are canvassed in order to receive treats, candy and apples. The familiar phrase, "trick or treat," is shouted as doorbells are rung.

The phrase in essence promises the person of the visiting household that if the caller is treated with goodies, his property will not be damaged.

When this threat was first presented, it offered an occasion for playing harmless pranks. Some of the early pranks were putting writings on windows with soap and putting mud on white picket fences.

In later years the whole idea of mild pranks is not so harmless. There have been reports of deflated car tires, along with overturned sheds, broken windows and uprooted plants, among other acts of vandalism.

Property of innocent people has been terribly damaged. Many communities now must have extra police patrols to prevent vandals from doing damages. According to Captain Carwile of the Lynchburg Police Department, all of the city policemen are on duty that night. Only men that are on vacation are excluded.

Capt. Carwile further stated that for the past two years there have been no crimes committed by teen-agers on Halloween. Recreation centers and various schools have worked together to plan indoor activities for that evening. "The young people of Lynchburg have aided in the reduction of crime in our city," said Mr. Lee Read, who is head of the Lynchburg Juvenile Department.

It is our responsibility, the future citizens, to do all within our power to continue to reduce the high rate of vandalism on Halloween and on all other occasions.

NEWS

(Continued from page 1, col. 1)

Mr. L. G. Stamps.

* * *

Mr. W. C. McClure, a mathematics instructor, was the principal speaker at the Youth Day Program at Jackson Street Methodist Church on September 26. His topic was "Challenging the Teenage Society." Mr. McClure has spoken on numerous occasions in Tennessee, his home state.

* * *

Mr. O. M. Washington, chairman of the Mathematics Department, attended the third Annual State Secondary - Mathematics Conference held at the Golden Triangle Motel, Norfolk, Virginia on October 8-9.

The theme of the conference was "Golden sections of Mathematics."

Approximately 600 representatives attended the conference.

* * *

Mr. R. D. Spencer, biology teacher, attended a state-wide Biology Teachers Conference held at the Golden Triangle Motel, Norfolk, Virginia on October 15-16.

Highlights of the conference included discussions of programs in biology being attempted by teachers in various areas of the state and demonstrations of teaching aids.

* * *

The first assembly of the Dunbar Senior High School was held Thursday, October 14, in the auditorium. A panel consisting of Viola Lynch, Sarah Scott, Wheeler Hughes and David Shaw discussed decorum, scholarship, personal cleanliness and study habits. Miss Jeannette Irvine was chairman.

room organization, elect officers, appoint committees, and carry on business as previously done in their joint meetings.

The Senior class at its initial meeting undertook one of its most important annual responsibilities—the election of officers. Ballots were distributed to each senior homeroom and the seniors chose class officers, their class motto, flower, and color.

Officers elected are Allen Parks, president; Betty Davis, vice president; Rosa Burford, secretary; Warrenette Vaughan, assistant secretary; David Shaw, chaplain; Lawrence Jefferson, business manager; and Vivian Cardwell, reporter.

The class chose pink and white as the class color with the pink rose as the class flower.

"We are the masters of our fate; captains of our souls" was chosen as the motto.

INQUIRING REPORTER

(Continued from page 2, col. 5)

without a detention has given the students a sense of responsibility to behave."

James Franklin: "With the detention gone I think the students in the senior high school are doing fine. We are showing that we really didn't need the detention in the first place."

Dorothy Douglas: "The behavior problems have not diminished, because most of the students feel that without the detention they can get away with anything."

David Shaw: "Yes, because the students act more mature and responsible since we no longer have the detention."

Barbara Wynn: "Yes, because it makes me feel that the teachers think we are mature enough not to need a detention."

some of the students are trying to show that we didn't need it in the first place and that we can be responsible and mature."

Jo Ann Beasley: "I think the problem of behavior has diminished, because now the students are behaving in a very respectful manner."

Robert Brown: "Yes, I think it has caused the problem to diminish because the students are aware of the responsibility they bear as senior high students."

Peggy J. Smith: "All the problems have not diminished, but the students act a little more mature in their behavior."

Norvell Saunders: "My opinion is that it hasn't diminished the behavior problem, but the absence of a detention proves that most of us are mature."

Shirley N. Jones: "Yes. Being

Turn to page 4, col. 4

learn how to help himself and where to secure guidance.

Among the special problems discussed in detail are relation with friends, family problems, educational problems and personal problems.

* * *

Fathers and Sons

By Ivan Turgenev

Published by

Washington Square Press

Paperback Edition: 45c

This book which has its setting in Russia is concerned with the philosophy of a young man, Arkady; his friend, Yevgeny Bazonv; and Arkady's father.

The development of the idea of the conflicts between youth and age, between the past and the future make a wonderfully realistic book. Youth exemplifies the belief in "nihilism," a viewpoint that all traditional values are unfounded; and age exhibits a strong belief in tradition.

HONOR ROLL

There are 41 students on the honor roll for the first six weeks of the 1965-66 school year.

By homerooms, these students are:

- B—Gerard Hutcherson.
- D—Bruce Johnson and Linda Johnson.
- 100—Ronald Thomas.
- 101—Janice Woodson, Delores Bolden, Carlton Harris and Mary Jackson.
- 102—Shirley Jones.
- 103—Myra Gordon, Brenda Jones, Marshall Davis, Mary Coleman, and Veronica Shelton.
- 205—Delores Anderson and Eula Woodson.
- 206—Nancy Coleman and Robert Wynn.
- 301—Larry Abrams, Lawrence Jefferson, Evada Jefferson and Grace Miller.
- 302—Allen Parks, Melvin Pinn, Olivia Thomas and JoAnn Pugh.
- 303—Barbara Brown and Rosa Burford.
- 305—Sarah Scott, Leonard Brown and Beverly Elliott.
- 307—Wiley Harris, David Herndon, Faye Barnett, Brenda Jackson and Ernestine Marshall.
- 306—Betty Davis, Cornelia Harvey, Eunice Jones, Diana Powell and Naomi Spinner.

Alumni Notes

By ANDREW SMITH

Having just finished six weeks of hard work, we are happy to discover that many of our recent graduates were inspired by their four years of hard work here to continue their education. Some of these attend

New D. E. Course Offers Theory And Training

By PEGGY L. SMITH

This year a distributive education class has been added to the curriculum at Dunbar.

The course is offered only to juniors and seniors because of the minimum age limit of 16 and because a fairly high degree of maturity is necessary before the boy or girl is capable of benefiting from the training and experience. Students participating in the program receive classroom instructions directly related to the distributive occupation in which they are engaged.

At present there are 20 students enrolled in D. E. The number is somewhat smaller than planned because of the limited number of business firms that have made jobs available to the students.

Mr. A. F. Thornhill, former business teacher at Dunbar, is the coordinator for the course.

Participating students attend classes all morning before reporting to their respective jobs in the forenoon. Thus, they acquire theoretical job training plus on the job training. For classroom study and the part-time employment, they receive two school credits and the part-time wages for their work experiences.

STUDENT ON JOB—Mr. Jacques Biechler, display manager at J. C. Penny Co., looks at a display card made by Mary Johnson, senior D. E. student, who is working in the advertising and display department.

Because of a joint arrangement between the high school and the distributive businesses in the community, the D. E. class is considered a cooperative program. One of the main objectives for the course is to prepare youth for full time employment in the field of distribution. It also serves as a background for those who plan to continue training in business administration, marketing, or distribution.

Subjects covered in distributive education include orientation and how to apply for a job, techniques of salesmanship, retail arithmetic, speech for the salesman, advertising, and store organization and operation.

The D. E. plan offers many advantages which will accrue to the students, the school and the community. After graduation the D. E. student, if he desires, may take on a full time job in one of the many careers offered in the field of Distribution.

ORBIT WITH THE TEENS

Everyone will have to agree with us, the teens, that we are really in the know when it comes "The Midnight Hour" and "Double O Soul." But the real cloud buster is the Miracles'

Poets Speak

Seasons and Education

By BENARD MORRIS,
Eleventh Grade

Season change all year round,
Just like the time of day,
Not waiting for anyone or anything
To change it in any way.

We have a season called fall
When the leaves begin to drop;
The weather turns to a sharp cool
And the warmth comes to a stop.

School starts and education continues,
Just like the year before,
Which moves closer and closer each year
To graduation's door.

Then comes the season we call winter,
When the snow begins to fall;
And going to school five days a week
Really demands your very all.

But the purpose of this as we know,
Is to further our education;
And the only way we can accomplish this
Is through concentration.

Then comes the season which we call spring
When the flowers begin to bloom,
And the student becomes tired and restless
Because of the weather, I assume.

We think of the day as lasting a week
Because of the mental strain,
But we know by only education hard work here to continue their education. Some of those attending college as freshmen are: Jancie Smith, Patricia Leggs, and Silas Herndon — Virginia State; Diane Lewis, James Davis, Ersie Silas, Edna Ross, Mary Jean Rosser and Linda Pryor — Hampton Institute; Sherline McCoy, Jacqueline McCoy, and Willa Miller—Virginia Union; Marla and Margot Beverly — Bennett (N. C.); Audrey Lee, Christine Richardson, and Rosetta Freeman — North Carolina College. Also, Alphonso Scott and Eugene Ferguson—Norfolk Division of Va. State College; Hylan Hubbard — Bowdoin (Maine); Farnese Hicks—Cedar Crest (Pa.); Carolyn Jackson—Clark (Ga.); Edwina Harris—Fisk (Tenn.); Melvina Pinn—Defiance (Ohio); Alfred Elliot—Lafayette (Pa.); Nancy Patrick—Johnson C. Smith (N. C.); Mildred Eubanks — Shaw University (N. C.); Carolyn Brown, Murrell Thornhill—Bluefield State (W. Va.). Also, Sherman McCoy—Cornell University (N. Y.); Lemuel Lewis—University of Virginia; Marjorie Pinn — West Virginia State; Leroy Roberts, Robert Thompson—A & T (N. C.); James Johnson — Wake Forest (N. C.).

We also find that some alumni have continued to advance themselves even after college. Alberta Camm, 1960 graduate of Dunbar and 1965 graduate of Hampton, is now teaching at Dunbar Junior High School in the English department.

James Giles, class of 1960 and a 1964 alumnus of Amherst College, recently worked in a New York law firm on civil rights cases. He is now attending Yale University, where he is majoring in law.

Wedding bells rang for Carolyn Hughes, 1963 alumna, in

A couple of years ago, Mr. Spencer visited Dunbar, at which time he presented a trophy to the most valuable basketball player. Alphonso Scott, a junior at that time, received the award. Scott is now a freshman at Norfolk Division of Virginia State College.

Each year Mr. Spencer also sponsors the most valuable football player award. The names of the players who are honored with the awards are inscribed on the trophies, which remain at the school.

Mr. Spencer is the son of Mrs. Anne Spencer, who is an outstanding poet and resides at 1311 Pierce Street. She was a former librarian in the city.

Guidance Personnel Begin Interviews

The Guidance Department has begun one of its many functions by interviewing students. The students are being interviewed in the order ranging from seniors to sophomores.

These individual interviews enable the students to discuss their educational and vocational plans. This is most important for those seniors who plan to attend college and for those who anticipate entering the labor market.

During the interviews students are given the opportunity to discuss with the counselors their plans, problems, and objectives.

Conducting the interviews are counselors Mrs. C. Seay, Miss A. B. Chambers, and Mrs. P. F. Weeden, chairman.

August when she became Mrs. Joseph Harris. She is a graduate of Morgan State College and is currently teaching in Baltimore, Maryland.

Support the United Fund

with us, the teens, that we are really in the know when it comes to the latest fashions, the most popular tunes, the keenest dances, and current fads. If you want to be real fashionable, you must jet off into orbit with us. So . . .

Fashion Flashes

For the girls the total look is a must. To achieve this effect, all the fashionable girls are wearing stockings, dresses and skirts of lively, unpredictable streaks and designs. As for make-up, the natural look is vogue. Naturally, the shades of powder, which is brushed on, are variations of pink and peach. Femininity is displayed in the jewelry. Varieties of earrings with the pierced look, and small, classy pins and pendant necklaces are neat.

The boys are really wild about the sweat shirts with the names of different universities written on them. Sweater jackets of lively colors are being worn with that individual look by Joe Cabler and Samuel Pinn. Soft colored shirts of yellow are tops. Observe Raymond Robinson and Frank Hughes.

Keenest Dances

A couple Saturdays back at Gayla Fitch's party, Skeeter Hartman and Sheila Crews exhibited the "Boogalo" to the tune of Papa's Got A Brand New Bag" by James Brown, of course. Meanwhile, Phillip Carr tried to switch the "Barracuda" on Barbara Quarles while Sara Scott and Richard Scott (no relation) held on to the dignified and more conservative style of dance steps. Other extortions of the frame included the "Boston Monkey" and the "Pig Feet."

Latest Tunes

Well, it looks like James Brown has done it again with "Papa's Got A Brand New Bag," while Otis Redding is asking for "Respect." Tops on the list are

"Double O Soul." But the real cloud buster is the Miracles' "The Tracks of My Tears."

Current Fad

Teens across the nation are blinking through those "dark shades." Even in the classrooms the shades are sported (if we can get away with them). Current excuse is, "They are medicated glasses." Keeping the fad alive are Rodger Pannell, Butch Warwick, Melvin Megginson, and Andrew Hubbard.

Dreams can come true, if . . .

By SHARON HUNTING

All people, both young and old, like to dream: that is they like to dream of better things to come. Is it harmful to envision obtaining a long anticipated job, enjoying some of the comforts of life, sharing love with others, enrolling at one's favorite college, or making straight A's in school?

It is natural and desirable to dream of future accomplishments as long as the person does not substitute the dream for reality. He should use the dream as a beckoning goal.

Without wholesome dreams, man would have no incentive to push ahead to greater heights or to look to tomorrow with hope. Throughout the pages of history, people of all walks of life have achieved happiness and success, because they worked zealously to make their dreams a reality.

Americans today would neither be able to worship according to the dictates of their heart nor enjoy the many freedoms available to them if a band of people had not dreamed that they could settle a wilderness. In fact, this country would not be considered

But we know by only education alone

That opportunities will rain.

Finally comes the season known as summer,
For most of us it is the best;
If in our power it were possible
We would replace it for all the rest.

In this season schools close,
And the fun will really begin,
With vacations and trips everywhere
And excitement which has no end.

The fun must finally come to a stop,
And school's revolution will begin;
You will watch the seasons come and go
And wait for this school year to end.

Little Things

By SHARON HUNTING

Eleventh Grade

From day to day I glance around
At all the little things I have found.
To me they seem more precious
Than all the silver and gold.

If you would stop and say hello
No matter where you go
To be conscience of another
And always wear a smile

Then you too could say
That this is truly a wonderful day.

the "cradle of democracy" if the founding fathers had not envisioned a land with democratic principles.

Many individuals would be hopeless and unsuccessful if they did not dream of a brighter to-

Turn to page 4, col. 1

Parrish Stars For Poets

Walter Parrish, a 5 ft. 8 in., 145 pound halfback, has continually thrilled the fans of the Dunbar football team, while giving headaches to the coaches and fans of opposing teams.

Against Langston, a game which was played in Danville, Parrish gained 248 yards. This is an outstanding feat considering that sometimes a whole team does not gain this much yardage in a full game. Though the Poets lost this game, the running and pass catching of Parrish kept the Poets' spirit alive throughout the game.

Parrish, who wears the number 22, is the leading scorer as well as the leading ground gainer on the team. After seven games this season he has scored 78 points. In the Langston game Parrish scored three times, however, two of them were called back because of penalties. One of the touchdowns called back, because of a clipping penalty, was a spectacular 95 yard punt return.

Though Parrish may need the help of 215 pounder Allen Parks, Donald Culpepper, 175; and George Wynn, 185, to spring him from the line, once he is in the open, he is headed for "pay dirt." Very few players can catch Parrish once he is in the clear.

The veteran player is a member of the junior class.

Cheerleaders Boost Team To Victory

Cheerleaders: Hey, school!

Students: Hey!!

Cheerleaders: Have we got a team?

Eunice Jones To Be Crowned 'Miss Dunbar'

NEW QUEEN—Awaiting the moment of her crowning tomorrow night is Eunice Jones, senior who will reign as "Miss Dunbar" 1965-'66.

Poet Gives Locker Room Info'

By NORVELL SAUNDERS

Poet Offensive Guard

It isn't often that the fans can hear the inside story about their favorite football team. Where does one go to really learn about the team? The locker room from the players themselves. After all, the fellows make up the team. How do we feel about our team?

The football team had a problem at first filling the left half position, held by Bobby Thomas last year. We are, however, compensated by the speed and experience of Walter Parrish and David Shaw. Also, alternating this position are Hubert Patterson, Varney Foster, Charles McCoy, and Richard Jennings.

Our offense is not the best in the state, but it isn't the worst

As for practice sessions, they seem to get harder and harder each week. Of course, the summer practice is terrific because of the heat. Can you imagine what we went through under the hot, blazing sun, running, exercising, maneuvering and tackling?

Coach Organ and assistant coach Stamps started the season with the tremendous job of getting the team prepared for a rough schedule. They also had to work to improve last year's record of 4 wins and 6 losses. Both have worked very faithfully and hard with us.

What are we, the players, like? Just average high school boys who enjoy one of America's favorite sports — football. We realize that we have to give up our leisure time to practice, that we take the risk of being injured, that we must have clean habits, and that we must be good sports, Eunice Jones, popular senior at Dunbar High School, has won the title of "Miss Dunbar" by selling the highest number of season tickets.

When asked for comments, the attractive queen replied, "I am excited, happy and proud to claim the title of "Miss Dunbar." This is a distinct honor; and I shall always cherish it. I wish to thank all Dunbarians and the people in the community who helped me make my fondest dream a reality. You may count on me to wear this crown with the dignity that it suggests."

Eunice will be crowned at the homecoming game, November 6, when the Poets battle undefeated Northside of Gretna.

Miss Dunbar's attendants will come from both the Dunbar Senior high school and the Dunbar Junior high school.

Attendants from the senior high are: Diana Powell, senior; Patsy Waller, Viola Lynch, Frances Smith, Elvira Gunney, Estelle Roberts, juniors; and Annie Harvey and Margaret Hubbard, sophomores.

Junior high attendants are:

Class Meetings Change Schedule

The Senior class will continue to hold meetings on the first Monday of each month, while the Juniors will have a new schedule. They will meet on the third Monday. The Sophomore class will not meet jointly this year because of lack of space for a meeting place. Each sophomore homeroom will set up a homeroom organization, elect officers, Sandra Lacy, Luvenia Henderson, Delores Callands, ninth grade; Wendie Stephens, eighth grade; and Delores Beverley, seventh grade.

A scholarly student, Eunice is very active in extra-curricular activities. She is state and local president of the Future Business Leaders of America, head majorette, and editor-in-chief of the Dunbarian. She is also a member of the National Honor Society, Speech Choir, Tri-Hi-Y, and the CHRONICLE staff.

CLUB GLANCES

The Projectionist Club roster includes Alon Coleman and Edward Hoyle as co-captains, Reginald Johnson, Ben Jones, and Wiley Harris as lieutenants. Other members are Robert Copeland, John Coleman, Glenn Clarke, Douglas Jones, Ronald Wilkinson, and William Reid.

The projectionists are responsible for stage lighting, the public address system, care and maintenance of all audio visual equipment. Also, they instruct teachers and students in the operation of audio visual machines.

Mr. O. M. Washington and Mr. B. A. Miller are sponsors of the group.

* * *

Le Cercle Francais elected Raymond Jones, a member of the senior class, president for the third consecutive term. Other officers are Evanda Jefferson, vice president; Shirley Jones, secretary; Peggy Garland, assistant secretary; Delores Bolden, chaplain; Preston Jones, reporter; and Marie Jones and Mary Jackson, treasurer.

Cheerleaders: Have we got a team?

Students: Yeah, man!!

This cheer and many others like it will be heard throughout the football and basketball seasons. Who is responsible for adding spirit and boosting morale at the games? The cheerleaders, of course.

Under the leadership of Mrs. D. Morris, physical education instructor, the cheering squad works daily to perfect their cheers and rhythm. Cheerleaders devote one hour each Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday to (dedicated) practice.

Along with these practices come new ideas and problems. Finance has always been a major problem. Each girl brings fifteen cents dues every Friday. This money is collected and put into the treasury to be used when needed.

Strong voices, spirited minds and energetic bodies are needed by a cheerleader. This year's squad offers all of these qualifications. The new members of the senior squad include Carolyn White, senior and secretary, and Gail Thompson, junior. Veteran members are Sandra Jackson, senior and captain; Grace Graves, senior and co-captain; and Evanda Jefferson, Barbara Quarles, Sharon Hunting and Mary Johnson.

Junior squad members include Tanya Pinn, Louise Coles, Janice Woodson, sophomores; and Betty Glass, Joyce Patrick, seniors; and Barbara Mosley, Clara Colmore and Gayla Fitch, all juniors.

DREAMS

(Continued from page 3, col. 5)

morrow. However, dreams alone will not bring success. The fulfillment of a dream can only be achieved through determination, hard work, patience, and faith.

Our offense is not the best in the state, but it isn't the worst either. We have to admit that we have made a lot of mistakes, which have been costly to us. The defense has called out to the offense for help several times, but only when needed.

I think we should play percentage ball—that is gamble only when circumstances are in our favor. The same feeling is shared by my teammates, especially, Victor Cunningham, Raymond Robinson, Donald Culpepper, David Shaw, Allen Parks, Louis Mitchell, James Hunter, and French Poole, all of whom make up the more experienced segment of the team.

Athletic Popularity Contest Planned

The CHRONICLE sports staff this year will honor those athletes selected by the student body as the most popular during a given season.

To nominate a candidate each student is asked to submit the name of his choice to Sterling Daniels, sports editor. Along with the candidate's name, the student should state in twenty-five words or less his reason for selecting the athlete.

There will be chosen a most popular athlete from the football, the basketball, the tennis, and the track teams. At the close of each season, the newspaper will feature the winner. Also, the person who gives the best reason for selecting the winning candidate will have his statement and his name included in the feature article. The sports staff of the CHRONICLE will evaluate the statements submitted.

At the end of the school year, there will be chosen a most popular athlete of the year.

Football nominations should be submitted by November 15.

homeroom will set up a homeroom organization, elect officers, appoint committees, and carry on business as previously done in their joint meetings.

NEWS

(Continued from page 1, col. 1)

Mr. L. G. Stamps.

* * *

Mr. W. C. McClure, a mathematics instructor, was the principal speaker at the Youth Day Program at Jackson Street Methodist Church on September 26. His topic was "Challenging the Teenage Society." Mr. McClure has spoken on numerous occasions in Tennessee, his home state.

* * *

Mr. O. M. Washington, chairman of the Mathematics Department, attended the third Annual State Secondary - Mathematics Conference held at the Golden Triangle Motel, Norfolk, Virginia on October 8-9.

The theme of the conference was "Golden sections of Mathematics."

Approximately 600 representatives attended the conference.

* * *

Mr. R. D. Spencer, biology teacher, attended a state-wide Biology Teachers Conference held at the Golden Triangle Motel, Norfolk, Virginia on October 15-16.

Highlights of the conference included discussions of programs in biology being attempted by teachers in various areas of the state and demonstrations of teaching aids.

* * *

The first assembly of the Dunbar Senior High School was held Thursday, October 14, in the auditorium. A panel consisting of Viola Lynch, Sarah Scott, Wheeler Hughes and David Shaw discussed decorum, scholarship, personal cleanliness and study habits. Miss Jeannette Irvine was chairman.

Wiley Harris is captain of the Patrol Force. Other officers are Glenn Clarke, lieutenant and Douglas Jones, sergeant. The remainder of the patrol members are Ronald Wilkinson, Reginald Johnson, and Lemuel Morris.

Among their duties are morning and evening traffic posts, maintaining order at recess, and being responsible for the general welfare of others at Dunbar.

Mr. C. F. Pinn sponsors the group.

The Future Teachers of America held its initial meeting on October 6. Brenda Bolden was elected president.

Other officers are Brenda Gilmore, vice president; Arlinda Jones, secretary; Janice Woodson, assistant secretary; Viola Lynch, treasurer; and Gwendolyn Loving, chaplain.

* * *

INQUIRING REPORTER

(Continued from page 2, col. 5)

without a detention has given the students a sense of responsibility to behave."

James Franklin: "With the detention gone I think the students in the senior high school are doing fine. We are showing that we really didn't need the detention in the first place."

Dorothy Douglas: "The behavior problems have not diminished, because most of the students feel that without the detention they can get away with anything."

David Shaw: "Yes, because the students act more mature and responsible since we no longer have the detention."

Barbara Wynn: "Yes, because it makes me feel that the teachers think we are mature enough not to need a detention."

er, and Marie Jones and Mary Jackson, treasurer.

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

* * *

Sale of Chronicle Candy

(Continued from page 1, col. 5)

This year, the proceeds will be used to purchase a camera.

Each bar of candy, a quarter pound of milk chocolate with toasted almonds, has a personalized wrapper and sells for fifty cents.